

What are the benefits of an Apprenticeship?

Apprenticeships provide the best of both worlds. They offer high-quality work-based training and are a fantastic way to launch yourself into your chosen career.

Apprenticeship offer a number of benefits...

Earn while you learn

You will gain a nationally recognised qualification, whilst getting paid! The average weekly wage for an apprentice is £200, however many employers pay more than this.

Get paid holidays

You'll get at least 20 days paid holiday per year, plus bank holidays.

No student loan, equals no debt

If you're aged between 16 and 18 years old, the Government will pay the full cost of your training. If you're over 19 years old, your employer will be expected to contribute to your training costs. The funding you're eligible to receive from the Government will depend on your circumstances, your employer and the type of Apprenticeship...but don't worry, we will work with your employer on this.

Wide range of Apprenticeships to choose from

You can choose from thousands of vacancies in a range of industries, from hairdressing to construction.

Learn at a pace suited to you with one-to-one support from our industry experts

Become a valuable asset to any employer

You'll gain hands on experience and learn the skills that employers want and need.

Greater earning potential

Many apprentices benefit from a substantial increase in salary on completion of their Apprenticeship.

Progress within your job or continue studying

Apprenticeships are available up to degree level or higher. They can be demanding, but are very rewarding!
